VIP RED CARPET TEA TIME @ THE WELCOME CENTRE

The Southern Highlands has long been regarded as a destination to experience High Tea and Devonshire Tea, and May is Tea Time at the Southern Highlands Welcome Centre. This year we have combined our regular VIP Red Carpet Day and our Australia's Biggest Morning Tea event to happen this Wednesday, 18 May.

The Destination Southern Highlands staff will be waiting to serve you whilst supporting Australia's Biggest Morning Tea event across Australia and helping the Cancer Council raise vital funds for cancer prevention, research and support services, and at the same time showcasing some great local product throughout the day.

Guests will be treated to a nice 'cuppa' and cake and Amanda from the Highlands Tea Company will also be providing the opportunity to sample some of her unique tea blends between 10:00am – 11:30am and if you can't make it for the morning tea, then pop in between 2:00pm – 3:30pm and for some tastings from Stone's Patisserie, Cuttaway Creek Jams and Sutton Forest Olives. There will also be wine tastings from Southern Highland Wines – Oldbury Reserve Pinot Gris 2015 and their Pinot Noir 2013. A gold coin donation will be greatly appreciated with all monies raised on the day being for the Cancer Council.

This year Cancer Council aims to recruit 35,000 generous morning tea hosts nationally to support Cancer Council's life-saving work into prevention programs, world class research and support services (like Cancer Council 13 11 20) for all people affected by cancer.

If you would like to come along, you will be very welcome at the 'Welcome Centre'.
