Her final appearance for the day is the Closing Ceremony - this is a show stopping performance NOT TO BE MISSED.

Mary is a Scottish singer, who first had hit songs as vocalist for dance music at The Time Frequency (TTF) in the early 1990s and later a solo career. Before TTF, Mary was Session/Backing vocalist and has toured with artists such as Donny Osmond, John Reid & The Nightcrawlers (Push the felling on), Paul Young (UK), Hue & Cry (UK), China Crisis (UK), and performs vocals on The Simpson's Yellow Album.

PRESENT DAY

Mary Kiani is one of Scotland's greatest exports of Song! Well known as the Scottish Songbird who was originally signed with Mercury Records, she has had many international hits in the dance and pop music genre throughout the 90's in her homeland of Scotland, the British Isles, Europe and Australia.

Mary has always had a passion for the "songbook" style of classic standards which she has been singing throughout her illustrious career.

Now residing in Sydney full time for the past five years and during this time has been teaching voice from her studio in Newtown, on a one to one basis. She is signed to Australian label Fanfare Records, and delivers her new album, "Little Things Mean A Lot" along with many other beautiful songs delivered in her own unique style.

For the past few years Mary has been involved with The Murrayfield Ball for St Andrews day, singing Flower of Scotland along with The Macleod pipe band, and also singing with Bob MacInnes on fiddle.
